

HOW TO FIND YOUR FAVOURABLE MAHA DASAS OF PLANETS FROM D10 CHART?

Hi dear friends.

Let me here present you a very simple technique or thumb rule from which you can find out whether a maha dasa of a planet is going to give good results are not. You need not study it's lordships, calculate the strength of the planet, understand it's position in natal and other divisional charts and other hundred astrological dictums/rules. You need not even talk to an astrologer or any other expert in the field. Only elementary knowledge is sufficient. It is a very simple and sure shot rule.

When you get your chart printed from any decent and accurate astrological web site giving your birth details, you will get your horoscope and it will also have D10 chart invariably.

So now you find out which are the favourable upcoming or future maha dasas of planets. Go to D10 chart. If you find the planet whose maha dasa you want to find about, see in which tattva of house it is posited there.

Zodiac signs are classified into four types by their tattvas.

1. Houses – Aries, Leo and Sagittarius are fire signs – show pronounced natural ability to succeed.
2. Houses – Cancer, Scorpio and Pisces are water signs - ability to succeed after study
3. Houses- Gemini, Libra and Aquarius are air signs – ability to succeed after study and practice
4. Houses – Taurus, Virgo and Capricorn are earth signs – Ability to succeed only after many years of labour of intense study and exhaustive practice.

Thus the dasa of planet, in D10 chart, in fire sign gives superior results, followed by those in water signs, followed by air signs and lastly the planets in earth signs. Further, an exalted planet in D10 chart gives excellent results and a debilitated planet will give bad results.

Voila, now you know how good your next or present mahadasa will prove to be.
